EDMONTON BULLETIN, SEPT. 15th, 1902

AS TO OATS.

The Northwest government department of agriculture is to be highly complimented on prompt action in opening up the question of a market for Alberta oats. Evidently there is a very fair prospect of a market in Australia, and a possibility of a market in South Africa. Our position is particularly advantageous regarding Australia. There is a direct steamship line from Vancouver our nearest ocean port, and North Alberta is hundreds of miles the nearest producing export point to that port. But there are others who have surplus oats and are looking for a market. And if something definite is not done and done quickly to make the necessary business connection which will place Alberta oats on the Australian market other business connections will be established and we will be crowded to one side. We have always been anxious to secure an outlet by way of Vancouver. The Vancouver people are waking up on the same subject. Now if ever is the time to make a start. But the start will have to be made right here and by ourselves. The business men at each shipping point should get together at once and decide upon some line of action. Samples have to be secured, agencies have to be established, shipping facilities have to be secured at Vancouver. There is a world of work to be done and it will not do for us to wait any longer. We had a taste last winter of what we may always expect from our Winnipeg friends and the sooner we are up and doing for ourselves the better.

Regarding South Africa we are in a much less favorable position than last year. Then we had practically the only surplus of really good oats in the world. And although we were at the far end those who wanted them had to come after them with prices. Now, however, the demand is not so urgent or so great and there are millions of bushels of oats available for export to South Africa situated hundreds and possibly thousands of miles nearer the direct steamship line runs. The only chance we have in South Africa is on the superior quality of our oats for seed. All reports agree that we have a specially fine sample this year. This might secure us a preference that we would not get otherwise. There is enough in the prospective market in South Africa to warrant its being looked after but the opening in Australia is the one that requires earnest, undivided and immediate attention, or others will occupy the ground. Already the prices quoted are the attitude of the dealers here and in Winnipeg convey a warning that should be heeded and heeded at once.

FLAT WAREHOUSES.

The North West Farmer predicts a greater grain blockade this fall than last. It sees no possibility of the crop being hauled to Lake Superior before navigation closes and advises farmers particularly in the Qu'Appelle and Indian Head districts of the Territories to put up granaries in which to store their wheat. In this connection it may not be out of place to mention that under legislation passed at last session of parliament farmers may erect such buildings on the right of way at railway sidings, taking the proper steps at the proper time. By that legislation parliament assumed the right of public control over the railway right of way which it had refused to assume at a preceding session. If the farmer cannot ship or sell his grain at a satisfactory price in the fall he can now if he erects such building at the siding utilize the winter for delivering his grain, and it will be on the track ready for shipment whenever the blockade is raised or the market improves. This could not be done in previous seasons, and whether the opportunity is availed of now or not there is no doubt that the fact of its existence will have a salutary effect both on shipments and prices.

ALBERTA BUTTER.

Innisfail Free Lance: The butter exhibit at the Calgary exhibition last week was fairly large, some 13 creameries being represented. The exhibits came from throughout Alberta and assinitio, each exhibitor showing both prints and boxes, and the prizes all came up the C. & E. line. For boxes, W. J. Ireland, of Fort Saskatchewan, took first and John Cox, Innisfail, second. On pound prints, W. S. Downham, of Red Deer, took first and George W. Scott, of Innisfail, second. In the competition for the cup awarded for the highest average score, Mr. Downham, took first with 97 points, Mr. Cox being only three-fourths of a point behind. Nearly all the Alberta competitors scored over the minimum figure of 94 points, leaving the others several points behind.

AS IT APPEARS TO
LOYAL SOUTH AFRICANS

The Bulletin is indebted to Lawrence Addison, formerly of Fort Saskatchewan, and more recently of the C. M. R. in South Africa, for a copy of the Cape Times of August 2nd. The Times is evidently not very favorably impressed with the peace terms, which have been accorded the hostiles, and as expressing loyalist sentiment in South Africa the following from the leading article may be mentioned. Incidentally it may be mentioned that loyalist South Africa put 52,000 men in the field, who rendered the empire most distinguished and valuable service at great cost of life, limb and property, and therefore the opinion of loyalist South Africa is entitled to the fullest consideration in any adjustments that may be made or contemplated there. How much it is receiving may be judged from this article, which deals with the resumption of constitutional government:

"Surely no one can doubt that if a Lord Durham could be sent out as Imperial Commissioner to South Africa at this moment, the course he would not adopt would be to throw back this province on the mercenary of a widespread rebellion, directed against British supremacy, into the storm and stress of party warfare. Nor can we consider of any wise administrator of the succession of Sir George Grey or Sir Bartle Frere adopting any such policy. We would point out that the course open to Lord Durham in Lower Canada, are not open to us. There is no possibility of redressing the balance of parties here by uniting us with a neighboring British Empire, which would ensure for ever British supremacy, is, we fear, indefinitely postponed because its advent is made dependent upon political forces in this colony. The only solution for our own difficulty is that which has been supported by the great body of British and Dutch loyalists here, and has been frustrated for the time by a ministry whose members may be good souls, but not necessarily heaven-born statesmen.

"Our correspondence fairly indicates the condition of affairs which, unless a miracle is wrought, we are bound to have in this colony. Country loyalists, who cannot be supposed to love the system, look forward to the raising of martial law as the only way of escape. They do most solemnly protest," says one correspondent, "against the withdrawal of martial law for some time to come." "You will not be surprised to hear," says another, "that the time of suffering of the loyal Dutch is now commencing in earnest. I for one," he adds, "mean to leave the colony for good, for as things are now I do not see a chance of living here peacefully." "There are only two things for this country, for some months if not years to come," says another, "namely, suspension or martial law." Lord Durham sketched the state of things he found after the rebellion in Lower Canada in words which apply almost exactly to ourselves. The words are so painfully applicable to us, we refrain from quoting them. Above all, however, we must not be understood, as going back on our opinion that to restore at once party and parliamentary government in this colony is a grievous error from which certain evil results are quite inseparable. We are told there is no precedent for withdrawing responsible government. That is no argument at all. The fuller the powers of self-government were, the greater is the reason for suspension. Representative institutions with an executive responsible to the crown, would be a less difficult form of government to restore at once. And what has our ministry effected? It pretends to have secured the freedom of the people. What it has done is to maintain constitutional forms which nearly all loyalists are anxious to sacrifice for the time, and which those who have misused them, in the past, unanimously desire to perpetuate. Truly a splendid feat! We do hope that Sir Gordon when he addresses the public meeting in Cape Town which we recommended yesterday, will abstain from any self-glorification as an apostle of freedom. Self-respecting British and Dutch loyalists do not think him for restoring such a parliament as we shall see on the 29th of this month. The very presence of many members of that assembly in a British parliament house so soon after recent events is, not to use any stronger expressions, slightly indecent."

Doctors Who Differ.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—At the Barlow banquet last night, Hon. Mr. Tarte dealt with the tariff again. As Sir Edmund Barton had said, he, too, was a protectionist. The Americans had a tariff of 50 per cent. Canada could not sell to them on a tariff of 25 per cent. Canada was a little boy, strangled by a big giant. Was not the Canadian entitled to decent protection? Montreal was a great industrial centre. It possessed a magnificent market. Nobody asked to have a Chinese wall put up, but speaking as a member of parliament and not as a minister, he would advise his colleagues, if permitted to do so, to erect blockhouses to prevent the enemy from attacking and destroying the arteries of Canadian national life. This point was loudly cheered. Mr. Tarte closed by advocating inter-provincial trade, and then would the country continue to prosper; and then let the mother country and the colonies understand one another. When in truth she would rule both the waves and the world.

Hon. Sidney Fisher, minister of agriculture, followed Hon. Mr. Tarte, and took direct issue with his fellow minister. He said, "The virtues of the evening would simply have to look about them as they traversed the fertile plains of the great Canadian Northwest to see that Canada was in a position to dispute even with the title of the butchery of the empire."

years that it had ever been in the United States. She was ready to do her share for the empire, and Canada prosperous and rich, would be as she had been two years ago when the South African war broke out, ready to assume a share of the burden of the empire. The greater, the larger, the richer she was the more would she be ready to undertake for the defence of the flag. The parliament of Canada would at all times be found ready to aid Canada in the way of progress.

A SUGGESTION.

Live and learn is an excellent motto, and it is just as good in the Northwest as anywhere else in the world. Possibly it is better here than almost anywhere else. Because this country is in process of being occupied by people who have been used to different conditions almost everything is to learn. The more quickly and thoroughly the people learn to adapt themselves to or to take advantage of their new conditions the better for themselves and for the country.

The Northwest is a region of prolific summer and also of cold winter. Industry and energy are needed to take advantage of the summer, and forethought as to fuel, buildings and property are necessary to provide against the cold of winter. The old saying that "it's cold but you don't feel it" is so good. When the weather is cold you do feel it, if you are not properly housed or clad. Furs are an absolute necessity to comfort in the Northwest in winter. That may be taken for granted from the start. The people who do not wear furs are uncomfortable and endanger their health, while those who wear furs are comfortable and do not endanger their health. Furs are therefore one of the most important features of winter wearing apparel in the Northwest, and the cost and appearance of the various kinds of fur are important questions.

Amongst the most expensive and valuable furs worn is the so-called Persian lamb, of various grades of quality and cost. There is certain to be a large and constantly increasing demand for this fur in the Northwest as population increases. As matters stand this means a great deal of money going out of the country every year.
A great need of agriculture in the Northwest is variety of industry. If so-called Persian lamb could be produced here so that the home demand could be supplied a double object would be served. Money that now goes west would be kept in the country and another branch of agriculture would be started. There is every reason to believe that the sheep from which the "Persian lamb" fur is produced can be reared successfully in the Northwest. These sheep are reared in the Carpathian mountains, which lie between Galicia and Hungary in Europe. And there are amongst the Galicians and Bukovin-ian settlers resident in this district and who at home have reared this porphyry breed of sheep, and understand thoroughly the preparation of the pelt for making up into all but the finer qualities of the fur. Of course the great cost of the finished product is in the dyeing, dressing and making up.
But still the proper breed of sheep must be reared or the pelt of desired quality cannot be secured.

Considering the great demand which must necessarily exist in the Northwest for all time for a fur of good appearance and moderate cost, and considering that the breed of sheep under consideration provides just such a fur; and further considering that we have amongst us people who understand both the rearing of the sheep and the dressing of the pelt, would it not be sound public policy for the department of agriculture in connection with their experimental farms to risk the expense of the importation of a trial lot of the sheep. Private capital can scarcely be expected to be invested in an enterprise which would be so entirely experimental. But it seems to be exactly of the nature of the cases which the experimental farms were designed to meet.

THE BASE LINE TRAIL
In the Bulletin, Edmonton.
During last July and August I was travelling township 52, range 20, and had occasion to travel several times over the base line trail or road from Strathcona and Edmonton to Beaver lake. What surprised me was the large number of settlers with horses and wagons passing daily over this trail.
There were several bad places but still the people around Beaver lake and the Vermilion country, preferred this trail to any other as being much shorter.
The trail was in bad repair at that time, but was just as good as any other to Beaver lake, and the Vermilion country, it is thought that the business men of Edmonton and Strathcona, the boards of trade, the government, and the people, stand very much in the same way, not improving the trail, as it surely will become the main trail from Edmonton to the above named places, being much shorter, and the nature of the trail better suited than most others for making a good and easy road.
Six or seven hundred dollars, expended in crossing laying and ditching would put this road in a fairly passable condition.

R. W. LENDRUM, D. L. S.

"OUR TERRITORIAL LANDS"

The Bulletin has received in neat pamphlet form an address delivered by Chas. A. Stuart, barrister, of Calgary, to the Young Liberals of that city entitled, "Our Territorial Lands—a brief statement of the case for Provincial Control of the Crown Domain." The address covers eleven pages, and the pamphlet is the work of the Alberta press. The address is a carefully presented and clearly reasoned argument in favor of control by the prospective province of the Northwest, of the public lands remaining at the time of the formation of the province. It is impossible to reproduce the address in full, but it is safe to say that it will play an important part in the negotiations regarding provincial establishment which must take place between the Territorial and federal governments. Mr.
Stuart sums up his case as follows:

Any argument in favor of the right of the federal government to assume permanent control of our crown lands can, if what I have said is true, rest only on an entire misconception and misunderstanding of the true position of the federal government with relation to these Territories. If what I have said is true, it is a complete mistake for the federal government to look upon the crown lands of these Territories as a piece of property of their own, as a piece of treasure, as a precious possession to be disposed of as they please. It is true they spent a little money in getting possession of them, and considerable more in governing the settlers who have come to dwell upon them. But the Imperial government spent millions of treasure and thousands of lives in acquiring the soil of Eastern Canada, and the taxpayers of Great Britain are paying interest on that money to-day, and yet Great Britain does not for that reason assert the right to own and control the soil of Eastern Canada or of any part of British North America.
And remember Canadians pay no share of the expenditure by which Great Britain acquired their soil and governed their country in early days while we in the Territories are paying our full share of the money spent by the federal government upon us.

My whole contention, then, on this third proposition, is simply this, that the arrangement of 1869 by which the Territories were united with the Dominion was a purely provisional scheme by which the Imperial government stepped out of the way and entrusted the government to the Dominion authorities pending the gradual development of what was practically a new British colony through the period of its infancy to full provincial powers; that any attempt by the Dominion government to deal with this colony otherwise than the Imperial government would have dealt with it, or otherwise than the Imperial government did deal with the eastern provinces, would be a failure to fulfill the trust imposed upon them and would be a long deposit from the noble and generous example of the Mother Country. The possession and control of these lands for thirty years by the federal government has not been a possession and control by the federal government as against a fully fledged province of the Dominion but has been merely due to its Imperial position. When the time has now come for the federal system to be perfected it is for the Dominion government to retain the powers which the B. N. A. Act has given it in accordance with Imperial example and with the spirit of the B. N. A. Act to place the lands of the Territories under provincial control.

The Doukhobors.

Mr. Arch. Sept. 3.—A letter has been received from V. V. De Maynor, Crowstons, Assn., in which it is said among other things:

More than three years have elapsed since the establishment of the Doukhobors on the prairies of Canada.

During this time they have not occupied themselves very much with their spiritual culture, but they have striven harder to live by laboriously earning their daily bread.

Before attaining much success in material things the more progressive among them manifested discontent with respect to their spiritual culture, and of the degree of perfection attained towards having the spirit rule over the flesh.

They exerted themselves more and more as they say, to revive the Christ in them, and destroy the throne of Satan established in human hearts.

These progressive individuals were joined by a limited number of their countrymen, but finally almost the whole community of Doukhobors took the road to moral perfection as it presented itself to their intelligence.

While in Russia they had decided to cease using meat, liquor and tobacco, and when they arrived in Canada, they began to carefully weigh their actions and they perceived that neither the ox nor the horse could be utilized without a whip, bridle, bit, shoes, harness and other instruments, with which to master the animals, or without de- cise, as for instance, the temptation of the animal by means of oats and salt. They noticed also that in order to obtain milk from the cow and goat, it was necessary to use a stick to keep away the calf and kid, and then nourish the latter with waste (skim milk), which is disagreeable, compared with new and nutritious milk.

As the commandments of Christ and also of the Talmud, Codgarius, etc., recommend that above all things men should not do unto others what they would not have others do unto them, who among us, say the Doukhobors would like to see his child chased away from the breast of its mother? Why then is it that we do not let all our little ones, suckle their mothers and drink at will? Likewise it would be just as extremely disagreeable to us if some one much stronger than we obliged us by force, by fraud or by temptation, or by instruments of servitude to work for him. Hence we should conclude that practice is no more agreeable to the dumb beast, which grows under the yoke and which labors in search of its most unhappy existence, in the hope of finding a deliverance from its bondage (Romans, VIII, 19-23).

Knowing and understanding this the Doukhobors for the most part decided to deliver the beast from its burden, to give an example to other men. At the present time many of their villages are without oxen, horses or sheep, and when people must go on a journey, they make it on foot, even for a distance of fifty miles. As for instance, when going to Yorkton, the nearest town for many of the settlers. When plowing is to be done they harness themselves to the plow, and so on.

Other individuals as well as the Doukhobors have tried the harness and they found that it was not difficult to work thus, that they were living among themselves, and not by depending on others, as the Doukhobors say.

The animals liberated by the Doukhobors are assembled in two places, numbering about 500. To look after these animals two young shepherds have been chosen, one of whom, Brockway Pappier, following the example of Christ's fasting, has neither drunk nor eaten anything for 43 days. Some time ago the Doukhobors asked the Canadian government by special communication to kindly inform them where they could find a warm country where they could send their animals to browse and forage during the winter, and thus live without the aid of man.

Seeing that the government did not comply with their request, the Doukhobors have already commenced to march their cattle, horses and sheep towards the south.

British Columbia Shipments.

Phoenix, Sept. 6.—(Special).—Boundary ore shipments are once more grinding to a halt, something like the old figures prevailing before the coke shortage affected all the local smelters. The total for this week is nearly double that of last. The Snowshoe and B. C. mines once more rejoined the list of shippers.

In detail the ore tonnage for the week is as follows:
Granby mines, 4,978 tons.
Mother Lode, 2,177 tons.
Snowshoe, 480 tons.
B. C. Mines, 300 tons.
Emma mine, 130 tons.
Total for the week, 8,064 tons.
Total for year to date 306,471 tons.

This week the Granby smelter treated 5,022 tons, making a total for the year to date of 290,189 tons.
Rossland, B. C., Sept. 5.—The report of the operations of L. Roi mine for August, forwarded by Mgr. J. H. MacKenzie to the London directors, states that the shipments of iron ore during August were 56,000 tons, second class ore 1,600 tons. The profits are placed at $75,000.

July shipments from Le Roi averaged 16,777 tons, and the estimated profits for that month were over hundred thousand dollars.

Regina Crops.

Regina, N. W. T., Sept. 9.—Thirty per cent of the crop is yet to be cut. This is on the heavy lands. All the crop on the light lands is cut, and with the splendid ripening weather is a. k. The yield is heavy. The only reports of frost are from the Qu'Appelle valley, where there have been seven degrees. All the crops, however, will be marketable and anyhow the quantity touched is too small to affect the bulk.

Yukon Election.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 6.—It is reported in political circles that Wm. Ogilvie is likely to contest the Yukon against Governor Ross.

Trade with Australia.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—J. S. Larke, Canadian agent in Australia, reporting to the department of trade and commerce, states that if Canadian firms wish to do business in Australia they must have their representatives establish agencies in the country, and where possible, have these agencies carry a full stock. Every other nation, he says, has done this, and has secured a foothold. Canada cannot hope to change this law of trade. The agents must be on hand to take the order and see that the goods are delivered when shipped.

With respect to the drought Mr. Larke states that so far the condition is unchanged and that there has not been sufficient rain to affect the crops. The consequence is that there has been created a demand for Canadian butter and also for Canadian No. 1 hard wheat as the country cannot grow sufficient grain for its own use.

He advises that the government should send some shipments of butter at their own risk in order to establish a market. He also advised that samples of western grain should be forwarded.

STRATHCONA.

Handwritten, Sept. 12.
H. L. Hall's residence on his farm in the Ellerslie settlement was destroyed by fire during the violent storm of Tuesday last. The fire was caused by a defective flue and having got a start it was quickly out of control. Mr. Hall managed to save his piano and a good deal of the rest of his property. He estimates his loss at about $100. There was no insurance.

The conservative leaders are expected to arrive at Strathcona on Monday, 22nd inst. They will address a public gathering that evening in Roes Hall. On the evening of the Tuesday following they will address a meeting at the Strathcona Hotel. It is probable that members of the party will also address gatherings at St. Albert and Fort Saskatchewan.

Thomas McKelvey returned this week from a business trip to Trail, B. C. Mining is looking up throughout the Kootenay, especially in the south, and prospects are very bright for the coming year. A settlement between the smelters and mine owners has been effected which has caused a great increase in the amount of ore shipment. The grain and produce market is dull yet but Mr. McKelvey believes it will improve gradually. Ferries are at work again though the strike settlement is only temporary and may be called on again.

The tenth anniversary of the Strathcona Methodist church, celebrated on Sunday and Monday of this week, was a very successful and happy occasion. On Sunday morning the Rev. J. J. Higgins, B. A., of Edmonton, and in the evening Pastor Finch, preached to crowded audiences. In the afternoon a children's service was held, and a children's school, Miss Noble, of the Sunday school, Miss Noble, of the Sunday school, Messrs. Higgins and Finch. On Monday evening the anniversary supper was held; it was a complete success, socially and every other way.

Mr. Bege Alanson has this week moved from his farm two miles east of Strathcona to his new residence on Cameron St.

Leslie & Dillabough is a new firm of harness makers that have established business in Strathcona this week.

This week Mr. J. W. Suddaby shipped half a car of fall wheat in the east to Mr. Toole, of the C. P. R., at Calgary. It is to be used by the company for advertising purposes in the east.

C. P. R. freight rates on goods coming west from Winnipeg have taken another jump up. The rate on first class freight between Winnipeg and Strathcona has been raised from $2.49 per hundred to $2.53, on fifth class from $1.97 to $1.16, and other classes proportionately. And what are we going to do about it?

On last Saturday evening a company of ladies and gentlemen met at the home of Mr. Geo. Thomson. The result was the organization of a ping-pong club. The officers elected were: President, Mr. D. C. McEachern; Secretary, Miss C. K. Blain; Treasurer, Dr. W. McIntyre; executive committee, Mrs. Thomson, Miss Currie.

Dr. L. Austin has decided to start a soap factory in Strathcona and has ordered the necessary machinery and equipment which he expects to be here for installation in a couple of weeks.

Town Bros. expect to open a skating rink in Strathcona the coming winter.

Mr. Edward Murphy had a letter this week from his son Ned who is still in the hospital at Pretoria slowly recovering from a long struggle with enteric fever.

Cameron's bridge gang arrived at Strathcona last night preparatory to rebuilding the bridge across the White Mud on the Rabbit Hill road.

WETASKIWIN.

Time, Sept. 11.

The Times is now all home print.
A very painful accident happened to Mr. J. Smith on Wednesday of last week while he was driving near Lewisville. The horse which he was driving became frightened and kicked Mr. Smith on the knee turning the knee up back. He was brought to town on Friday in a wagon and has since suffered intense pain. This accident will lay him up for several weeks.

Next week Mr. Barnard will move his residence down onto the main trail running east, and will conduct a hotel. We understand he will also start a store in the near future.

G. J. Bryan, school inspector, has been on an inspecting tour of the schools of the east, and returned to town Friday evening. He reports that harvesting is progressing very rapidly and that the grain is of a good quality. The hail district, however, is a deplorable sight.

Miss Effie Eggleston went to Strathcona on Friday evening last where she will attend high school. Mr. Eggleston accompanied her, returning Saturday morning.

J. Connolly, who resigned his situation as teacher of R. C. school at Midland, and who spent the vacation in Ontario, returned last week. He has accepted a school at Sturgeon.

Leon Young, son of "Col." Young, met with a painful accident last week, which might have proved serious. He was carrying some gunpowder in his pocket when it ignited in some unknown manner, and the result is that he badly burned his right hand. He is improving as well as can be expected and will soon be all right again.

A PROLIFIC LAKE.

Pigeon lake is one of the great fishing lakes of this district. It may be well to mention that although almost all lakes contain fish, locally only those which contain white fish are known as fishing lakes. White fish are THE fish of the north country. All other fish are distinguished by their several names, and are recognized as an entirely distinct creature from whitefish. Whitefish vary in quality according to the lake from which they are taken. Some lakes have a standing reputation for the quality of their fish; others for the number which they produce annually.

With white fish as with many other things the highest quality does not always go with the greatest quantity. Lake St. Ann and Saddle lake are at the head for the quality of fish which they produce; and White Lake and Pigeon lake for the numbers caught annually in their waters. Pigeon lake is about twelve miles long by six wide, and is situated about twenty miles west of Wetaskiwin, and is reached from Edmonton, south and Ponoka at a greater distance. Its situation makes it the only one of the North Alberta fishing lakes to which railway communication is available, and large quantities of fish from its waters are shipped by rail every winter. Every year from time out of mind the lake has been fished extensively according to the needs of the people, and with increase of settlement in recent years the demand on its waters has greatly increased both for local use and shipment. To balance this increased demand, however, the government has enforced protective regulations especially during the spawning season. Had it not been for these regulations there can be no question that the lake would have been fished out before now. But owing to their judicious enforcement the supply of fish is as great as ever. Last winter 60 fishing licences were granted for Pigeon lake, and on Wednesday morning last Simon Fraser took 100 fish from his nets set in the lake the night before.

GARDEN PARTY.

The garden party at Dr. Roy's residence on Friday afternoon and evening in aid of the General Hospital was a great success and was attended by upwards of 200 people. The fire brigade band was in attendance and their music added greatly to the attractions of the day. A tennis tournament took place in which Mrs. Christie won the ladies' prize, a silver pin, and Mr. Parker the gentlemen's prize, a silver corkscrew. Ping-pong was also one of the attractions. A raffle of a silver bouquet holder resulted in it falling to the lucky holder of No. 61. The holder of this number is requested to call at Dr. Roy's residence for the prize. The house and grounds were decorated with flags, and Chinese lanterns, and a tent was erected on the lawn. Supper was served at six o'clock on small tables arranged on the lawn. Candies and flowers were for sale. The party broke up about 9 o'clock after a most enjoyable time. The proceeds amounted to about $150.

NEW BUILDINGS

A further list of this year's buildings continued from last issue is given below. This list includes the new buildings from First street, H. B. reserve to Queen's avenue, north of Jasper avenue, but not including any lots fronting on Jasper avenue.

Geo. Hutton, a 2 storey blacksmith shop 2430 feet, opposite W. H. Clark's sash and door factory.

A. B. Cushing, a 2 storey house 2833 feet with brick foundation and basement, fitted with hot water pipes throughout. Value $2,700, at the corner of First and Elizabeth streets.

The Massey-Harris Co., on Howard street in the rear of their warehouse some sheds for implements.

Jas. Walsh, on Rice, a blacksmith shop 2430 feet, 2 storey.

Geo. Hutton, a small shed beside his livery barn.

J. H. Pike, a 2 storey house 1824 feet on Clara street.

A. H. Haines, a 2 storey house on Isabelle street, not complete.

Mike Gowda, a 1 storey house north of new school.

A large and handsome solid brick public school on the block north of Isabelle street, and between MacDougall street and Queen's avenue.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE

Rev. J. S. Shearer, secretary of the Dominion Lord's Day Alliance, presided in the Presbyterian church last evening, and afterwards addressed a union meeting in the same church, on the subject of the observance of the Lord's Day. Rev. Mr. Fleming, of the Presbyterian church in Strathcona, presided. Rev. Messrs. McDonald, of the Baptist church, Hinton, of the Methodist church, Gray, of the English church, and Forbes, of the Presbyterian church, at Fort Saskatchewan, were present on the platform. Rev. Mr. McDonald led in prayer. Rev. Mr. Shearer delivered a very forceful and well reasoned address on the national necessity of the observance of the Lord's Day. He also spoke of the need of the laboring man. He stated that four millions of the people of the United States did not have the advantage of the day of rest, and that in Canada 100,000 people were in the same position. Rev. Mr. Gray suggested the necessity of the Sabbath, but did not hold extreme views as to a proper measure of recreation on that day.

At the conclusion of the address steps were taken to organize a branch of the Lord's Day Alliance. A number of names were handed in with a membership fee of 50 cents. K. W. MacKenzie was elected president and Rev. Mr. McDonald vice-president. Elmer Johnson was secretary. Another meeting will be held shortly for further organization.

TELEPHONE TO LEDUC

The Edmonton District Telephone Company's lines were extended from Beaumont to Leduc on Saturday last. The line was worked through from Leduc to Morinville, 52 miles very satisfactorily. At present only one instrument is installed in Leduc, but it is intended to put in an exchange as soon as the necessary appliances can be procured. The contract for the extension of the line to Leduc is between Leduc and Beaumont and Morinville. To Leduc it is 15 cents. The Leduc line runs south from Beaumont to the Clearwater settlement and thence west to that railway line and then south to Leduc. The company contemplates extending their lines to Fort Saskatchewan next spring. Poles will be gotten out this winter.

The rental paid for telephones in Edmonton, Strathcona, St. Albert and Beaumont free interchange of messages between the three places. But messages to or from Elmersburg, Beaumont, Leduc or Morinville must be paid for at the rates already stated.

Lethbridge News: No less than 50 binders have been at work in the grain fields of the irrigated districts for the past two weeks. Three years ago there was not one in the district. Nearly all the crop is secured in prime condition, and the yield promises to be very heavy.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

Fine weather continues and harvesting is being rushed in every part of the district. Cutting has pretty well kept pace with ripening, or indeed sometimes has been a little ahead. Having cut rather early at the beginning of the season some farmers are now holding back until the last of the crop shall be fully ripe. On the night of Wednesday, the 10th, the government thermometer in Edmonton registered 32, the limit of frost. Potatoes tops are still untouched in the town gardens, but outside of town most potatoes show marks of frost. It was not sufficiently severe to injure oats, but might have injured wheat had any been standing. All wheat had already been cut.

Threshing will begin this week, although harvesting will not be completed until the following week. All accounts agree that the wheat excels in both yield and sample. The oats are also an excellent sample but more variable as to yield.

—Rev. J. R. Matheson left to-day for Union Lake with two cows and a ferry boat laden with supplies.
